

The Research Methodology Pyramid

Each level limits choices at the level below it, but not above it. For example, methods determine tools, but tools merely imply methods because the same tool can be used in several different methods. Maximize creativity by thinking both up and down the pyramid when you plan a project.

